Muse boosts North West development team

Muse Developments has appointed Greg Ball as development surveyor to its North West team.

Greg joins the company from Jones Lang LaSalle, where he dealt with some of the most significant office schemes in the North West. He has more than 10 years' experience of office agency and professional property related matters throughout the region, with particular focus on disposals, acquisitions and development.

He joins Muse to assist in the delivery of its expanding portfolio of projects across the North West.

Mike Horner, regional director for Muse Developments, said: "Greg is a well-known and well respected figure in the marketplace with an in-depth knowledge of office markets throughout the region.

"He brings with him a vast amount of experience which will prove invaluable to our developments going forward and I'm very pleased to welcome him to the Muse team."

Greg commented: "I'm very excited to be joining Muse and taking on a more development focussed role. I've always been passionate about the urban landscape and I'm looking forward to having the opportunity to directly influence it in my new position."
