Muse recruits its first communications manager

Claire Hextall joins the national developer working across its offices in Manchester, London, Leeds and Glasgow to develop its communications strategy as it delivers some of the country's most exciting regeneration projects. Claire previously worked for David McLean and was instrumental in creating the Elan Homes brand following the management buyout of David McLean Homes.

Commenting on Claire's appointment Matt Crompton, joint managing director at Muse, said: "We are delighted to welcome Claire to the team. We are very passionate about the work that we do and are keen to promote this."

Continued Matt: "In these challenging times we are continuing to make key appointments and are delivering some of the country's most exciting regeneration schemes."

Claire added: "I'm thrilled to be joining Muse. There are some fantastic projects in the pipeline and lots for us to talk about".
