Muse starts 2022 expansion as Milne joins Leeds office

Leading national property developer and regenerator of towns and cities, Muse Developments, is delighted to announce that Andrew Milne, is the firm's first appointment of 2022 and joins the Yorkshire and North East regional office as senior development surveyor.

Andrew joins the team from Henry Boot Developments and brings over a decade of experience to Muse. Along with assisting the team in growing its regional portfolio across Yorkshire, the North East and East Midlands, Andrew will also lead on the delivery of the 150-acre Harrier Park, a mixed-use industrial and residential development scheme in Hucknall, Nottinghamshire.

On the appointment, regional director, James Pitt, said: "I'd like to welcome Andrew to Muse, where he'll have the opportunity to work with a highly experienced team and help deliver our innovative brand of regeneration and development that delivers real, tangible benefits to communities in the repurposed towns and cities in which we invest.

"Andrew joins us at an exciting time, as we look to expand our team based in Leeds and continue with our commitment to creating connected, vibrant and sustainable regeneration schemes that leave a long-lasting, positive legacy."

Andrew added: "I'm delighted to start the new year by joining such a respected and market-leading developer and I'm looking forward to getting going. Muse has created some amazing schemes throughout the region that blend heritage, community aspiration and importantly purpose into their developments."
